Use the same header from your resume for your letter

Today's Date

Name of Employer
Organization Name

Research to find a specific person to address the letter to, if you absolutely can't find someone, use a specific title or role, like "Design Department Hiring Manager" or "Account Manager Search Committee"

Dear First Name and Last Name,

Introductory Paragraph:

- Hook the hiring manager with your best information and how it fits the position with the company.
- Why you want to work for this organization specifically and how it fits your career goals.
- Names of people you've talked to from the organization (if applicable).
- Brief statement of key traits or qualifications (no more than 3) that make you ideal for the position.

Second/Third Paragraph(s):

- Two or three skills that make you an ideal candidate for this position's required qualifications.
- An explanation of how you have developed each skill through past experiences.
- Tip: Do not reiterate the entire resume or include too many skills!

Closing Paragraph:

- Summarize why you will be an asset to their organization.
- Indicate you will be calling to follow up in a certain amount of time, if you have their contact information.
- Re-state your interest in the position and your desire for an interview.
- Thank them for their time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Thank you so much for taking the time to talk to me about the Marketing Internship at ABC Corporation at the career fair yesterday. I really enjoyed hearing about the fast growth and the vibrant atmosphere at ABC, as those characteristics fit well with what I am looking for in a company. Please accept this cover letter and resume for application to the Marketing Internship which aligns well with my long term goal of a career in marketing. I believe the combination of my education, previous marketing experience and computer skills make me an ideal candidate for the position.

In May of 2022 I will receive my Bachelor of Science degree in Applied Economics with an emphasis in Marketing. In addition to my marketing-focused education, I have enhanced my marketing skills through my role as a Community Advisor. In this position, I work over 30 hours per week designing, marketing and promoting weekly activities and programs for the 100 residents of my residence hall. Our marketing strategy includes posters, table tents, e-mail reminders and various other promotional tools.

The recent product launch at ABC Corporation makes it a very exciting time for the marketing department in your company. My interest in better utilizing technology as a marketing tool fits well with your departmental goals, and my coursework and experience with emerging technologies could be an asset to your organization.

I believe that I could contribute to your organization's marketing goals with my promotions and marketing background and my computer skills. I will contact you within a week to ensure you have received all the necessary materials and to discuss next steps. Please feel free to contact me at 651-222-3333 or via e-mail at anita@umn.edu if you would like further information. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Anita Future
